Why laser therapy?

Veterinarians are recommending our laser therapy because it's a safe, fast, side-effect free way to relieve pain and accelerate healing for your pet.

Can it get too hot like Class IV lasers?

Our Super Pulsed lasers deliver light photons deep into the tissues. The pulses durations are so short, nanoseconds, there is no heat sensation. Animals generally become very relaxed. Even very small black-coated animals tolerate treatments very well.

Are there any side effects or associated risks?

Our true super pulse cold laser has no side effects and very few contraindications.

How long does each treatment take?

The typical treatment duration is 5-15 minutes depending on the size of the area involved and the condition being treated.

How often should my pet be treated?

Acute conditions may be treated daily, particularly if they are accompanied by significant pain. Most chronic problems respond well when treatments are received 2-3 times per week for two weeks tapering off to once a week, as your pet's conditions improve.

How many treatments does it take?

For some acute conditions, 1-6 treatments may suffice. Those of a more chronic nature may require 10-12 treatments. Conditions such as severe arthritis may require ongoing periodic care to control inflammation and pain symptoms.

How long before the results are felt?

You will typically notice improvement in your pet's pain symptoms right away. Laser works at the cellular level and is very effective for promoting rapid healing. Laser Therapy helps eliminate your pet's need for surgery or medications. Please consult with your veterinarian.
